

Indian Organ Donation Day Assam University Health Centre, on 27th November 2016:

Health centre of Assam University has organised an awareness on the Indian Organ Donation Day. The students of various departments along with NSS volunteers participated in the programme held in Bipin Chandra Pal Seminar Hall. The programme started with welcome address given by Dr. Darshana Patoa, Medical Officer, Assam University. She gave a brief historical outline of the observance of Indian Organ Donation Day in India on 27th Day of November every year. The other resource person from Silchar Medical College has also showed the documentaries to make the students understand the various aspects of the organ donation.

1. National Education Day Lane number 6 of Dargakona on 11th November 2016:

The programme was held in a Primary School of Lane no 6 community. Prof. Gopalji Mishra, from Department of Social Work, Dr. M. Gangabhusan, NSS Coordinator, Mr. Gwala from Child Line along with the Head Master and the teachers of the school were present. There was a good participation of school children along with their parents from the village. The programme started with the welcome address by the school Head Master. Dr. M. Gangabhusan gave the brief idea of right to education and gave an overview of the historical milestone events that made the access to education a fundamental right. He also asked the parents to be very responsible towards attainment of right to education. Their responsibility is to see that the child go the school regularly and make the school more friendly to the children. They should also ensure that the children should not be discriminate based on gender and promote a culture which gives an opportunity to excel their dream.

